

A Very Special Event for the Salvation Army Bush Fire & Drought Appeal

Brett Graham from the famed The Ledbury Restaurant in London, UK. will be returning to Australia to host MasterChef in May. The award winning The Ledbury has been voted twice best Restaurant in the UK by Restaurant Magazine, also voted in the top 50 Restaurants in the World by San Pellegrino, every year coming as high as the top 10. Brett has also received 2 Michelin stars.

Brett is looking forward to returning to his home town of Newcastle. Brett along with Neil Slater of Scratchleys Restaurant have invited some of Brett's former esteemed colleagues, who have previously worked with him at The Ledbury to present a degustation dinner with matching premium wines for your enjoyment. Brett and his award winning Chef mates will prepare a once off $2000 per head degustation dinner at Scratchleys to aid the Bush Fire & Drought Relief. This event will be a zero cost event with ALL proceeds going to the Salvation Army

In order for the funds to be distributed tax effectively the ticket price will be divided into two parts; the first being $300 paid to Scratchleys by phoning 02 49291111, the food cannot be claimed as a Tax Deduction under the law so Brett, the fellow Chefs & Scratchleys will donate this portion on their behalf to The Salvation Army & the second part being $1700 donated directly to the Salvation Army via the link below, so you can be issued a tax receipt

This sounds complicated but is the most tax effective way to help the Bush Fire Emergency
(disclaimer: I am just a waiter not an accountant)

This is a great way for those of us lucky enough not to have been effected by this tragedy to give a helping hand!

Please come and join us on:
